Hole Shot Through Heart
of Prominent Oil
Operator.

(By the Associated Press)
ARDMORE, Nov. 27.—The body of J. E. Lamb of Ardmore, drilling contractor and oil operator, was found shot through the heart and badly bruised and cut on the tracks of the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe railroad about six miles south of here last night.
Sheriff Garrett of Carter county, who discovered the body and conducted investigations, declared death was due to despondency, ill health and the result of his own hand.
Sheriff Garrett advanced the opinion that Lamb had wandered out on the tracks and waiting for the coming train placed the gun over his heart and fired just before the train struck him. No inquest will be held, it was said.
The deceased was born in Ohio, 36 years ago and leaves a widow and three children.
Lamb began his oil career when a lad, coming to Oklahoma about four years ago. He entered the field as an independent drilling contractor, but later entered a partnership with Hugh Stern, then drilling in the Hamon interests.

WANT DEMOCRATS TO FINISH OUT THEIR TERMS

JACKSON, MISS., Nov. 27.—The new republican administration must permit democrat office holders to complete the term for which they are commissioned or the democratic minority in the senate will fight against the confirmation of all presidential appointments if the plan proposed by Senator Pat Harrison is carried into effect.
Senator Harrison will leave tonight for Washington and will endeavor to secure a conference of the democratic minority on this question during the coming week.

EXPLOSION KILLS SIX AT PLANT NEAR MILAN

(By the Associated Press)
LONDON, Nov. 27.—Six persons were killed and 20 injured in the explosion of a plant at Vergato, 35 miles from Milan, yesterday afternoon, says a dispatch to the London Times. Great damage in the Vergato and other villages in the neighborhood was done.
The plant where the explosion occurred was used as a shell factory during the war, but since the close of hostilities was being used as a manufactory of citric acid. A fire broke out in the hut near the factory at noon, spreading to the main building and later jumped to a big dump of shells nearby.

ELEVEN ARE KILLED IN 1920 FOOTBALL

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—Football exacted a toll of 11 victims during the 1920 season, which closed with Thanksgiving day's games, according to reports to the Associated Press today. The number of deaths was five more than in 1919, and one above the list of two years ago. There were 12 lives lost during the 1917 season, 17 in 1916 and 15 in 1915.
The majority of the youths killed this season were high school players who may have entered the game with only limited knowledge of the game. Only two of the dead were of college aggregation and two on college class teams.

A Likely Looking Recruit.
An unusually well built, alert-looking chap came down a Kansas City street. An army recruiting sergeant saw him. "Never think about joining the army?" he asked. The "prospect" had. The sergeant began a glowing recital of the advantages of army life. The young man listened for 10 minutes then explained that he was Karl D. Klemm, former colonel of the 129th field artillery and a graduate of West Point. Incidentally, in civilian life, he is general manager of the Kansas City, Kaw Valler and Western Railway.

The New Ada Weekly News

On November 25th, The Ada Weekly News was born again. Heretofore the Weekly News has been the vermouth appendix of the Evening News. Hereafter it will be entirely independent of and separate from the daily.

For all these years it has been the policy of the News Publishing company to make the daily paper the real newspaper and issue the weekly as a sideline or afterthought. Enough dead matter was cleaned from the columns of the daily to fill the pages of the weekly. No effort was spared to make the daily as bright as possible and to make it grow as much as possible. The weekly was issued at odd hours after a certain fashion and was permitted to grow if it would—to survive if it could.

Hereafter the Weekly News is to possess an entirely separate identity. It will stand entirely on its own merits and receive every attention necessary to make it the liveliest and most popular weekly in Oklahoma. It's director will work on the Weekly News and nothing else.

The new Weekly News will have many distinctive features. The principal feature will be a farm section for the farmers of Pontotoc county. This farm section will contain as much reading matter as the best farm journals of the southwest. It will be written with special reference to the farm problems of Southeastern Oklahoma. It will contain market reports up to the minute. It will review the agricultural activities of Pontotoc county. It will strive to give all the news of the county even to the remotest district of the county.

In addition to the farm section the Weekly News will have several pages of the current news of both state and nation. It will inform its readers as to what is going on in the foreign nations of the world.

The purpose of the Weekly News is, therefore, to furnish in one and the same copy a newspaper as good as the best and a farm paper as good as the best. In this respect it will be different from all other publications. You can now get a farm journal. You can also get a good newspaper. But you have not been able to get both in one. It is the purpose of the Weekly News to answer this demand and furnish to its readers both in one at one price. In this respect it will be the first of its kind.

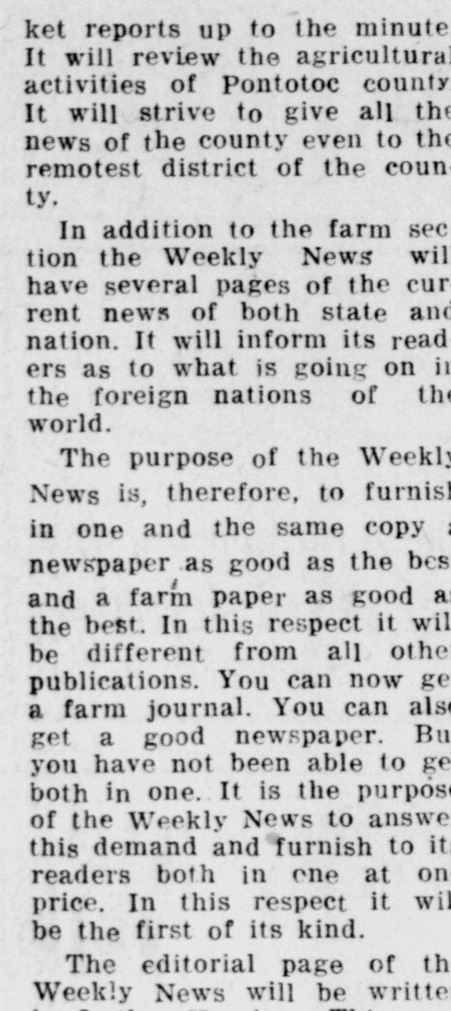

The editorial page of the Weekly News will be written by Luther Harrison. This page will discuss such problems of agriculture, economic and political, as interest our rural population. It will strive to be the servant and helper of those who till the soil and who write from the bosom of Mother Earth subsistence for all the people of the world.

The first issue of the new Weekly News appeared on November 25th.

stand at the opening of the hearing yesterday, were again placed on the stand this morning. Both told again of the wreck.

"I asked Rowlett not to drive so fast," Miss Ross said in answer to a question, adding that she had become frightened as the big car shot around curves, bounding over the road behind the Dodge car which Rowlett is alleged to have been attempting to overtake.
Rowlett's car smashed into the Dodge at the foot of a hill just beyond the swimming pool south of Ada.
The girls testified that all efforts to dissuade Rowlett from driving recklessly had been in vain. Attorney John Crawford, counsel for the defense, entered a plea of not guilty for the accused.
"In view of the fact that there is a possibility of a verdict of manslaughter being returned against Rowlett when he is brought to trial, I ask that the court agree to bail for the defendant," the county attorney asked at the request of the attorney for the defense. The court agreed to a bond of $5,000 which was promptly executed.
It had been the intention of the county attorney to modify the charge against Rowlett to manslaughter instead of murder after a preliminary investigation, but the evidence given by those who were in the car tends to incriminate Rowlett as the perpetrator of an act clearly dangerous to the lives of others, and in view of this Judge Brown acceded to the request to hold him for murder.

MYSTIC SEER

Madame Olga

Mysterious Smith And Madame Olga Drawing Big Crowds

Probably the most talked of show that has visited the new McSwain theatre since its erection last summer is that of "Mysterious" Smith and Mme. Olga, which has been here for several days and which gives its final performance this evening.

"Mysterious" Smith is a magician while Mme. Olga is staged as a reader or seer. Magic, of course, is nothing more nor less than an art in which the performer practices illusions that appear miraculous, but the proposition of mind reading is an entirely different matter.

Probably the greatest magician the world has ever known was Prof. Herman, and since his day the country has seen many imitators. We have seen Hoffman and we saw Smith last evening, and we can say frankly that he is one of the very best in the profession.

The work of Madame Olga is quite naturally attracting large crowds and close attention. Anything that appears miraculous or super-human always does engage the almost breathless attention of the people. To whatever class she belongs, occultist, seer, mind reader or what ever you will, she is an adept and is beyond doubt possessed of either skill or mental power not possessed by ordinary individuals.

A simple question written out on a card will be answered with collateral information that she could not possibly obtain from natural sources. She can locate lost articles, tell your future and your past, describe your aims, objects and ambitions as minutely as if you were doing it yourself, and during her stay here she has made comparatively few mistakes.

The entertainment is really worth while and will interest the most intelligent people. If you have not seen one of these performances you have really missed a treat.

At the second general session, beginning at 7:30 Friday evening, the assembled teachers and a number of citizens of Ada heard Dr. David Snedden discuss "Hard" vs. "Soft" Pedagogy. Dr. Snedden is Dean of Columbia University, at New York City, and eminently qualified to discuss educational questions before any enlightened audience. He said in part.

"The school of the forefathers believed only in 'hard' pedagogy, their idea being that school was a place for work only, and hard mental work at that.

"Some eager souls, reacting from the dreary hard pedagogy of the past now want to make the schools places of play only. These devotees of 'soft' pedagogy are often people of fine sentiments and are great believers in the essential goodness of the instincts of children.

"There is probably no danger that teachers excessively devoted to 'soft' pedagogy will capture our schools, except the kindergarten where they should be supreme, but the time has come to recognize more clearly what we have done heretofore that the modern school has time and place for both the pedagogy of work and the pedagogy of play—hard and soft pedagogy respectively.

The keynote of the real education is efficiency, the efficiency that comes sometimes from good work, sometimes from good play."

Harding Swims While We Shiver

President-Elect Sails for Home Today

(By the Associated Press)
CRISTOBAL, CANAL ZONE, Nov. 27.—President-elect Harding prepared regretfully today to bid good-bye to the Canal Zone. His visit ends here tomorrow, when he sails on the steamer Pastores for the United States.
Senator Harding returned here last night from the Pacific terminals of the canal where he exchanged solicitations with officials of the Republic of Panama. Today he visited the fortification and the submarine base at the eastern end of the waterway, played a game of golf and took a swim in an outdoor salt pool near his hotel. A plunge in the pool was his first act after returning here last night, and he was out early this morning for another dip.
The Pastores will sail at noon tomorrow and is due to reach Kingston, Jamaica at eight o'clock en route for Norfolk. Senator and Mrs. Harding and their party will go ashore at Kingston where they will take luncheon and later they will go for an eight mile motor ride as the guests of honor of the British possession. Then will board the ship again at Port Antonio.

Ye Gods! Booze Runners are Stopped by a U. S. Cruiser

DULUTH, Minn.—Operations of whiskey smugglers who have been reported as running rum into the United States from Canada via the water route are believed to have been curtailed by the presence in Lake Superior of one of Uncle Sam's war vessels.

Although the ship—a submarine chaser—was assigned to Lake Superior principally to assist the coast guard in safeguarding the lives of seamen and in giving help to other ships in distress, according to N. A. Linderberg, deputy collector of customs here, she has been asked by customs authorities to keep a lookout for violators of the country's customs laws. The vessel carries no guns, according to Mr. Linderberg.

Last summer the chaser caught a band of whisky runners on Isle Royal, taking a small motor boat carrying 30 cases of Canadian made liquor and arresting three men who will be tried at the January term of federal court, according to Linderberg. This was the only seizure by the vessel reported to customs officials here, he said. This capture, however, along with unverified reports that the vessel's first duty is to stop illegal liquor traffic between Canada and the United States is believed to have had the effect of making whisky runners less ambitious.

The vessel is not confining its operations to any particular part of the international waters, according to the coast guard officer here, but range from Duluth as far as Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., where she reports to Lieut. Commander P. H. Ueberroth.

Just before the close of navigation last year the small craft rendered valuable service in its line of duty, assisting in rescuing the crew of the steamer H. E. Runnels which stranded near Grand Marais, Mich. The crew of the chaser working in conjunction with the coast guard, battled a storm for five perilous hours in removing the crew from the stranded steamer.

The sub chaser spent the winter at white fish point and made her appearance at Duluth last spring. From time to time the boat has reappeared here, and recently was reported at Ashland. The coast guard office here refuses to give out details of her movements.

Captain Benjamin Trudell, in command of the ship, is said to have denied that his vessel is engaged in running down whisky smugglers.

Most Successful Teachers Association Closed Today

The fifth annual meeting of the East Central Oklahoma Education Association closed this morning after a most successful two days session during which time more than one thousand teachers of the five counties comprising the district were entertained by what is conceded to be the best program ever presented at any annual meeting of the association.

Every speaker advertised on the general program came and filled his place, and it was remarked by one connected with the inside workings of the association that the teachers attended the various committee meetings and took more than usual interest in the work.

At the second general session, beginning at 7:30 Friday evening, the assembled teachers and a number of citizens of Ada heard Dr. David Snedden discuss "Hard" vs. "Soft" Pedagogy. WOMAN ACCUSED WITH AUTO BAND REMAINS SILENT

Muskogee Police Found Her
'With the Goods'
In Den.

MUSKOGEE, Nov. 27.—Positive identification of one automobile tire and automobile spot light and a hammer—part of the loot recovered by the police from the automobile thieves' rendezvous on the outskirts of the city—as his property was established yesterday by P. H. Battles, county superintendent of schools. Mr. Battles' automobile was stolen from in front of the Physicians and Surgeons hospital early on the night of October 29.

The county superintendent identified the tire by the number. It was a spare tire which he was carrying on his car, he said.
Information charging Goldie Purden, the woman arrested Tuesday, with aiding and abetting in the concealing of stolen property will be filed by the police in the county court this morning. It was announced last night.

At present she is being held at the police station on a charge of disturbing the peace.
An effort is being made to obtain her release under writ of habeas corpus. Attorney Scott Robson, in behalf of the woman, announced he would attempt to have the matter brought before District Judge Wheeler in a special hearing last night, but as nothing further was heard at the station from the lawyer, it was concluded he had abandoned the matter until today.

No further arrests have yet been made in connection with the uncovering of the thieves' nest. At police headquarters officers who are working on the case reiterated their belief that the thieves are Muskogee men. The Purden woman persists in her refusal to give any information and the few alleged admission she has made the police declared after running them down. were put out in an effort to mislead.

As the police go further into the case, they are becoming convinced they said, that the thieves' operations were on a more extensive scale than first thought. The police are confident they can trace the thefts of at least six cars stolen in Muskogee recently to this house, and how many more cars may have been stolen by the same gang is still a matter of conjecture.

Thanksgiving after the account of the uncovering of the den had appeared in The Phoenix, there were numerous calls at police headquarters by persons who had lost automobiles or accessories lately.
Some of these persons are certain in their identification, while others were uncertain and a few turned away disappointed that they were unable to claim any of the recovered property as theirs.

16 MAY BE LOST IN PACIFIC COAST STORM

(By the Associated Press)
SEATTLE, WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—All efforts to ascertain the fate of the 16 persons aboard the barge W. J. Parrie, reported ashore 96 miles south of Cape Flattery, on the Washington coast, had proven vain up to this morning, several hours after the vessel was reported to have struck on the rock coast. No direct communication has been had with the barge since the steamer Santa Rieta, which was towing her to South America, cut her loose shortly after noon yesterday in what shipping men described as the worst storm in years.

Roof Man Recovering.
After lingering at the door of death for several days Mr. Brady of Roff, is reported to be improving slowly but surely from a serious case of Bright's disease which has confined him to a room in the Faust hospital for over a week.

It was thought at one stage of his case that he would not be able to pull through but a decided change for the better occurred and he has continued to improve.
His advanced age is slightly against his entire recovery but with careful treatment and habits of life he may live for several years.

GO TO THEATRE

At the American.

Will Rogers does some of the finest riding of his screen career in the Goldwyn Picture, "Water, Water Everywhere," which comes to the American theatre on Monday. There is a mad race across country, which taxes to the utmost the strength and ability of both horse and rider, and which seems at times almost to end in disaster. There is a run which ends in a leap through the door of a saloon, the horse bringing up short in the middle of the floor. This required the most excellent co-ordination of brain and muscle, to avoid being swept from the horse when he entered the low door.

The exit from the saloon is even more sensational. Mr. Rogers mounts the animal, dashes madly at the door, throws himself partly out of the saddle, hanging by one foot, to avoid hitting the door frame, and is just recovering from this position when the horse leaps the high railing in front of the saloon, and is off at a mad gallop. Just to work off cowboy spirits, Mr. Rogers races through the streets of the town standing upright on his horse, swinging and swaying in perfect rhythm with the motion of the animal as he rounds curves and dodges pedestrians.

And, at the finish of the picture, comes a leap of horse and man into the swirling waters of a rocky stream, to save the life of a girl. The production is more than an exhibition of wonderful riding; it is a gripping story throughout, with a big, human theme, and an appealing love story.

Why Change Your Life?

Cecil B. DeMille's latest Paramount Artcraft production, "Why Change Your Wife?" will come to the McSwain Theatre for two days commencing Monday next. It is described as a striking drama of married life lavishly presented. Gloria Swanson and Thomas Meighan are the featured players. The story is by William DeMille.

The plot centers around Robert and Beth Gordon, married for ten years, but now beginning to drift apart. Beth was a charming girl. She has become a too wifely wife and bodes her husband with her excessive solicitude for his comforts. He finds diversion in the company of vivacious, pleasure-loving Sally Clark. Literal-minded Beth imagines them in love. A divorce follows, and Robert marries Sally. Too late Beth discovers why she lost her husband and, blossoming like a rose, develops into society's gayest figure. Sally, on the other hand, is transformed by marriage into a worse household drudge than Beth ever was. Robert's eyes are opened when he again sees Beth and through a dramatic series of events they are brought happily together.

The picture has been produced with all the beauty of setting, mastery of screen technique, and admirable attention to detail that was characteristic of Cecil B. DeMille in "Male and Female" and his other cinema classics. Sada Cowan and Olga Printzlau furnished the scenario.

At the McSwain.

Today marks the last day for Mysterious Smith who entertains in malle and his tricks are clean and clever, most of them are original and keep you guessing all the time. Mme. Olga who sees all knows all and tells all answers any question asked her and has made many friends while here and most every one says she is the fastest reader that ever visited this city.

DECISION SOON IN RIVER BED CASES

The Red river bed oil case will be argued before the U. S. supreme court December 13 by Oklahoma and Texas attorneys general, Atty. Gen. S. P. Freeling announced Tuesday.

That an early decision will come is Freeling's conviction.

This decision, which Freeling confidently believes will be in Oklahoma's favor, will be but the beginning of the real lawsuit for possession of the valuable oil properties in the river bed.

The government claims the river bed for the Indians, on the theory that the river bed was not given over to the state when the statehood bill was signed.

The state lost to the Osage in the last river bed fight, for the rich Arkansas and Cimarron rivers.

Some Good Advice From Fire Chief on Fire Prevention

A short time ago there was sent out a number of inspection blanks regarding fire hazards in the homes, to be filled in by the school children, all having been returned. I want to compliment these children for the intelligent way in which they answered the questions, and to express my appreciation of the interest taken in the matter.

From the information gathered from these reports I find that there are yet some very important improvements that could easily be made which are very essential to the safety of the home. I find in a number of instances that rubber connections to gas stoves are still being used. This is not only a violation of the city ordinance, but is against the regulations of the State Fire Marshals department and those of the Insurance Rating Bureau. Even if they were not against the above regulations they are entirely too dangerous to be used. Not only a large portion of our fire loss is caused by such connections, but a great number of lives are lost in the same way.

I also find that a number of unused stove pipe openings are closed by simply pasting paper over them, which is almost certain to cause fire sooner or later.

There is another of which I want to speak that most people never stop to consider. This is the dustless oil mop, which should always be hung up or kept in a metal retainer of some kind, otherwise they often cause combustion and therefore fire. Gasoline should never be used in closed rooms for cleaning purposes. It is always better to use it on the outside; if used on the inside all windows and doors should be open. Even then put out fires.

The burning of grass and leaves this time of the year has always been a problem for the fire department to handle. The only solution for this is to never attempt this on a windy day.

How to Turn In a Fire Alarm
If fire should break out call central and simply say "I want to report a fire." Central will then connect you with the supervisor, who will take the alarm and call the Fire department. In talking to the supervisor be sure to give the correct street and block number. For instance, if there is a fire in the 800 block on East 16th street, just say "fire in 800 block East 16th street." This will enable us to pick our route and to possibly avoid a bad stretch of road.

BELIEVES WOMAN CAN DO AS MUCH AS MAN

LITCHFIELD, Minn., Nov. 26.—There are no exclusively masculine lines of endeavor, in the opinion of Mrs. Caroline Koener, who at the age of 7 years has just retired after personally conducting a meat market here for forty years.

"If a woman wishes to do a thing, her sex is no particular handicap," Mrs. Koener declares. When her husband died forty years ago, Mrs. Koener took up the management of his meat market, just established, and still found time to attend to her seven small children.

FIRST PHOTOGRAPH SENT BY WIRE IN U. S. SHOWS PRACTICABILITY OF INVENTION

The picture printed above is a direct reproduction of the photograph sent by the Post-Dispatch from St. Louis to the World Building in New York and is reproduced "untouched" and the exact size received. The time of transmission of the photo of the Indian chief was eight minutes.

The picture above is the visible record of the first successful attempt ever made in America to transmit photographs over a wire and the first demonstration of the apparatus invented by M. Edouard Belin, French engineer. The invention bears the name telestereograph. The heads of the great telephone and telegraph companies, engineers, electrical kizards and newspaper officials witnessed the test at the New York World editorial rooms.

WESTERN UNION ASKS INJUNCTION AGAINST DANIELS

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—The Western Union Telegraph company applied to the District of Columbia supreme court today for an injunction to restrain Secretary of the Navy Daniels from interfering in the construction of a telegraph cable between Miami, Fla., and Miami Beach, Fla.

The Western Union also asked the court to request the naval secretary to instruct subordinate officers and naval officers to cease threatening to destroy the cable if laid. The company in its petition pointed out that the required cable line than the Barbados cable, the laying of which was prevented several months ago by the sending of warships to Miami.

BIG WAR CAMP NOW USED TO TRAIN CITIZENS

CAMP FUNSTON, Kas.—This big cantonment, where thousands of young men humming with a variety of activities that would make the erstwhile doughboys, artillerymen and machine gunners blink with amazement. Today Camp Funston is not only training men to be soldiers, but it is also training them to be farmers, electricians, carpenters, automobile mechanics and clerical workers. There is also training for men who want to learn to operate moving pictures.

A farm where scientific farming and dairying methods are taught is part of the school work at Camp Funston this year. A large herd of dairy cattle has been bought by the military authorities. The government dairy is reported on a paying basis.

Soldiers receive military training in the morning and do school work in the afternoon. Attendance at the school is voluntary, except in the case of illiterate soldiers, who are required to attend grammar school. There is also a high school course. Those soldiers who do not choose to attend school are given military training in the afternoon.

More liberty is, of course, allowed the soldiers than was possible when every effort was being made to prepare men for the battle front.

Five Crop Records Broken.
American farmers broke production records with five crops this year—corn, tobacco, rice, sweet potatoes and pears. Other crops closely approaching records were oats, barley, rye, potatoes, apples and hops. Corn, outstripping records with a production of 3,199,126,000 bushels, or 75,000,000 bushels more than ever grown before in the United States, is said to be the greatest crop in the history of the world.

MUST MAIL EARLY GIFTS TO SOLDIERS

Those who are contemplating sending Christmas packages to American troops in Germany must send the packages so they will reach Hoboken, N. J., by December 5 to insure delivery before Christmas. They should be sent in care of General Superintendent, Army Transport Service, Hoboken, N. J. These are the directions to be followed in sending the packages: Parcels for men stationed in Hawaii and the Philippines should be sent to "Depot Quartermaster, Fort Mason, San Francisco," and should reach this address not later than December 5.

Packages for men in the Panama Canal Zone and Porto Rico should be sent to "General Superintendent, Army Transport Service, Pier 3, Army Supply Base, South Brooklyn, New York." Packages should reach this address by November 30.

Packages for Germany must not exceed seven pounds in weight and 72 inches combined length and girth. Senders should of course, be very careful to address the packages very plainly, giving the man's full military designation and destination of package.

COST OF LIVING DOWN 2 PER CENT IN MONTH

New York, Nov. 21.—The cost of living decreased nearly 2 per cent in the period from October 15 to November 15, according to statistics compiled and made public today by the national industrial conference board.

Rents and the average cost of fuel, light and sundries slightly increased and offset the big decrease in the price of clothing and articles of food, the board's statement said.

Every item in the clothing list, with the exception of women's hats, was in the downward trend.

The board's statistics showed a decrease in the average cost of living since July of 5.2 per cent.

Things are seldom what they seem. For example, take the "convenient payment plan."

MEAT PRICE ANALYZED BY PACKING HOUSES

Consumers will not be greatly benefitted in the immediate future by the crash in livestock prices, was the word from Oklahoma City packers Tuesday.

Decrease in price of hides, tallow and other by-products and the system of credits used against the carcass were assigned for the failure of a proportionate drop in the retail price of meat.

Another reason given was that present supply to the retail shops comes from livestock slaughtered months ago and this supply would have to be exhausted before any material decrease was possible.

Slight reductions by the packers were announced Tuesday as follows: pork loins 4 cents a pound, other cuts of pork 3 and 3 cents, smoked hams 3 cents, beef 13 to 2 cents.

And in the meantime the hog market decline became more marked. Hogs were $1 lower a hundred Tuesday, the quotations ranging from $9.70 to $9.75. Hog receipts at the local yards were low with 500, cattle receipts were down to 750.

No Needles to Change

Pathe Sapphire Ball

The "Scientific American" rightly says, "to have proper tone rendering, the stylus or needle must fit and fill the slot exactly; if too small, it will be thrown from side to side, giving false tones; if too big, it will give trouble by jamming and causing excessive wear of the record." A steel needle wears out the record as quickly as it wears itself out and never fits the slot. The Pathe Sapphire Ball never wears out the record and always fits and fills the slot.

"NOT A REVOLT"—TIS A REVOLUTION

There was a political revolution in Oklahoma Friday morning. One day the Republicans of the state had a leader who was also their political master. The next day the Republicans had no one leader, they had no master, but their party destiny was in the hands of several party men, all of whom had opposed Jake Hamon.

The changes wrought in the destiny of America by the downfall of Wilsonism and the triumph of Republicanism early in the month was not more pronounced than the changes wrought in the Republican party of Oklahoma by the death of Jake Hamon later in the month. Indeed there is one similarity in the two occurrences. A great national figure gave way to numerous smaller figures: a great state leader gave way to numerous smaller leaders. Men succeeded a great man at Washington: men succeed a great man in Oklahoma.

The important thing from the viewpoint of politics in Oklahoma is that the spectacular victory won by Hamon ten months ago has been nullified by a 25c bullet. Yesterday the friends of Hamon were basking in that mellow light that surrounds the throne. Today they are in the utter darkness reserved for failures and political outcasts. As dispenser of patronage Jake Hamon was master of his party and the dominant figure of the entire southwest. While he lived his friends were certain of their reward. But his tragic death has taken his enemies from beneath his feet and placed his friends in the lowly position his friends had occupied for a season.

Who succeeds Jake Hamon as Republican leader in Oklahoma? The answer is unimportant. The new order may be a triumvirate. It will more probably be an oligarchy. It will have the colorless figure of J. W. Harrelld for a nucleus and will be backed to a man by the force that went down to defeat with John Embry and James J. McGraw. It does not signify who shall be selected to fill the vacancy on the national committee created by the death of Hamon. Anyone will suffice for a figurehead.

But the important thing is that the loaves and fishes of political patronage will now go to the men who fought Jake Hamon and not to the men who supported him. Down Eros—up Mars. The revolution is complete.

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH COTTON?

A billion people are in rags and are clamoring for clothes. The nations are clamoring for cotton to convert into cloth. The fields of the cotton belt are white with cotton that is so cheap it is rotting in the fields. It will not pay for the harvesting. What's the matter with the cotton market?

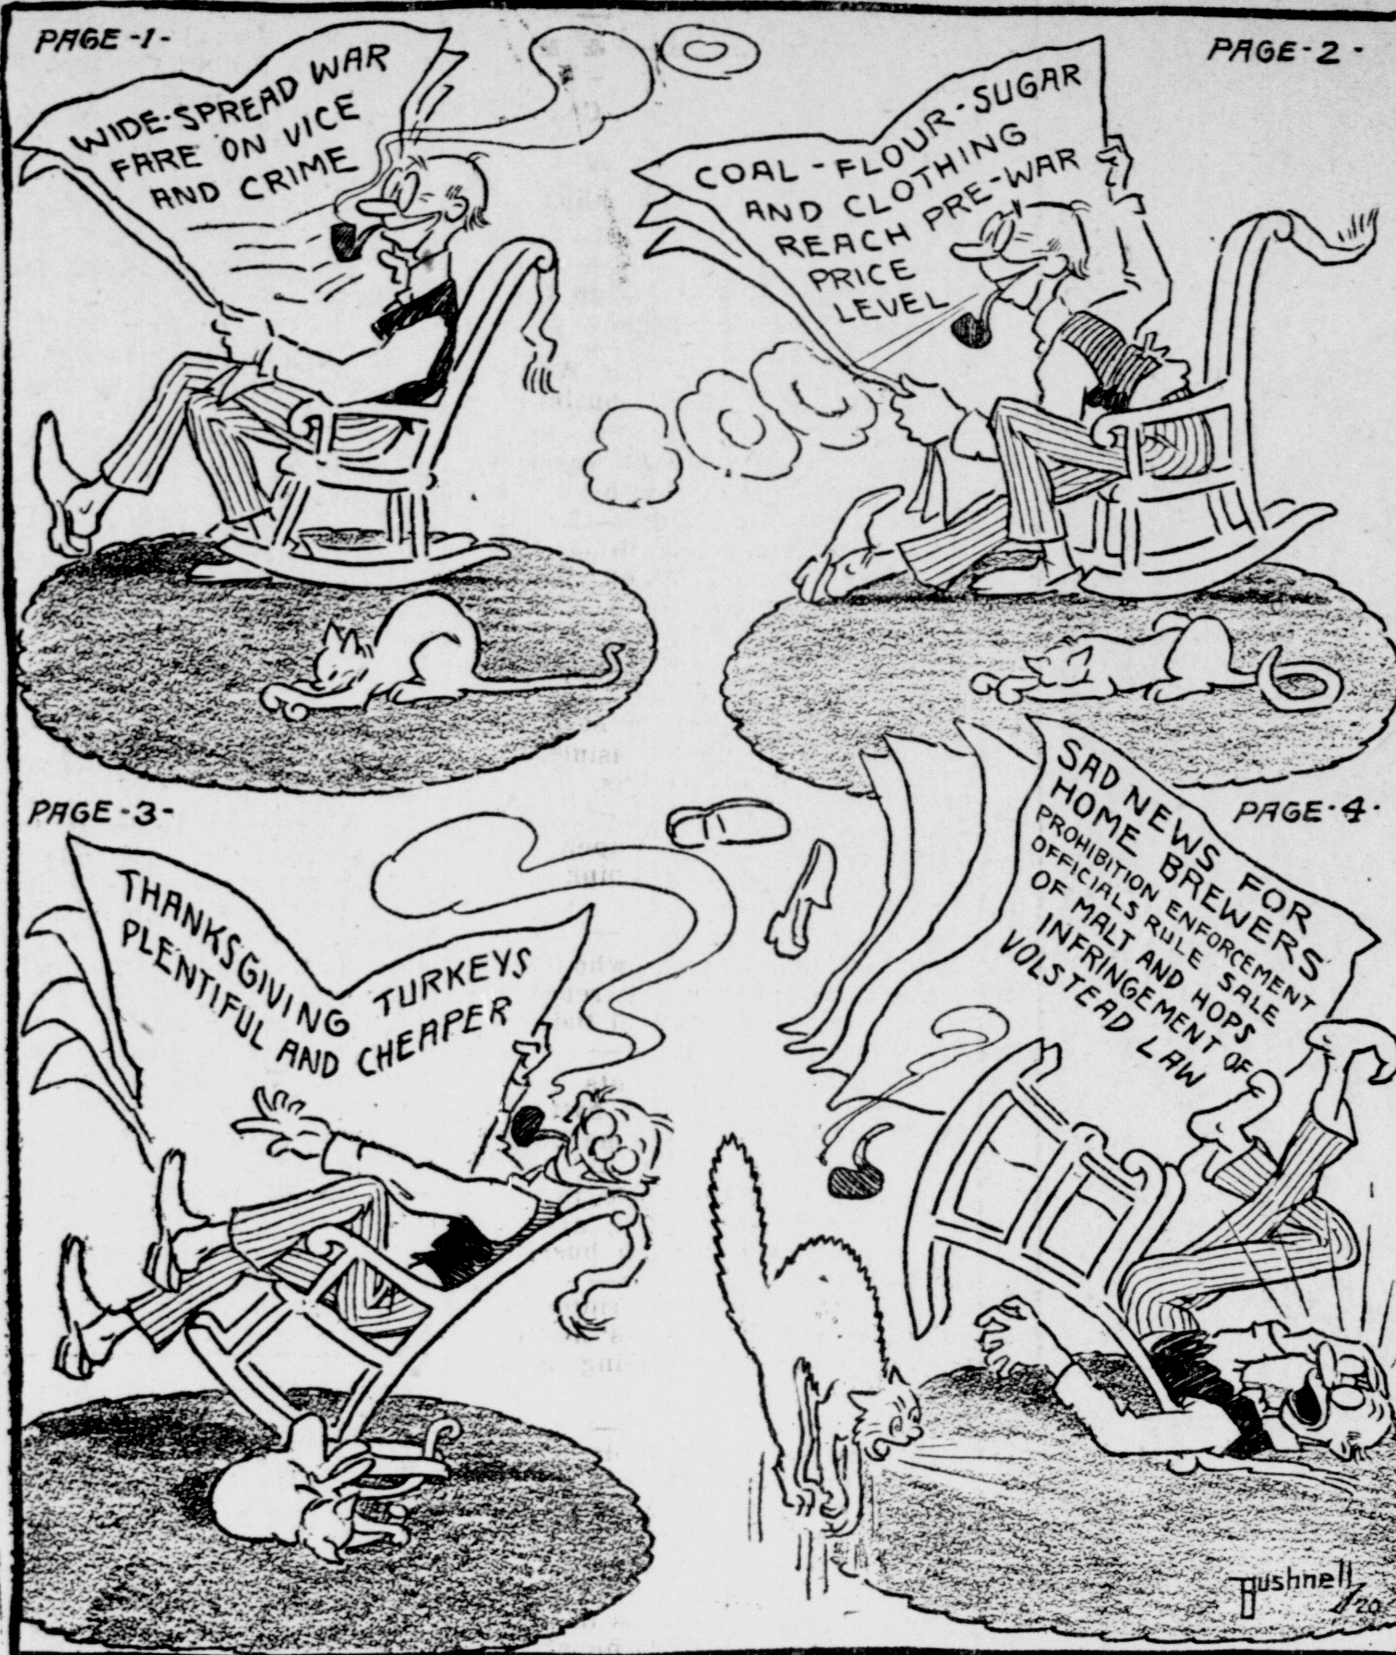

The purchasers of cotton are broke. The nations of Europe that for half a century have been purchasing our cotton have no money. Their money has been wasted in war. The same nations have no credit for their credit was exhausted by war. They are therefore unable to buy the cotton that they need and the cotton we have to sell, because they have no money and have no credit on which to borrow money.

Of course in the strict sense Europe has a lot of money. She has more real money than she had before the war. But that money is not worth anything and will not buy anything. European currency has depreciated until it is almost as worthless as Confederate paper was in 1865. At the present rates of exchange Germany would have to pay about 80c for cotton. France would have to pay practically the same. Where is the French or German spinner who could pay such a price for cotton and compete with spinners who can buy all the cotton they need for 10c.

When will the market be any better? No one knows. It will probably be a long, long time. In the meanwhile it is up to the Southern cotton grower to reduce his cotton acreage and diversify his crops. A system of warehouses is a necessity. Cooperative marketing would do much to relieve the situation. An airtight organization of farmers would reduce acreage, secure diversification, build warehouses and control marketing. Can organization be perfected? We shall see.

We hate to think it, but the conclusion is unavoidable that Oklahoma as a state is going to have to close shop and quit business. Directly or indirectly we have received statements of the amount of money necessary to run the different state establishments for the next biennium, and the total amount exceeds the total cost of state government since statehood. There is nothing else to it—we must close up shop and quit.

FARMERS ARE BUYING REGISTERED ANIMALS

(By the Associated Press)

CUSTER CITY, Nov. 26.—Farmers raising better cattle in Custer county are on the increase. The first registered cattle were brought to this county about ten years ago, but it was not until 1916 that the breeding registered livestock was advocated.

Through the organization of the Custer county improved breeders' association many farmers have been encouraged to stock their farms with pure bred cattle. At present Custer county heads the list of pure bred cattle raisers and the association in this county has one of the largest organizations of any county on the west side of the state. Several points in the county have become ready markets for registered stock and people from all over the state, Kansas and Texas attend the cattle, swine and sheep sales. Farmers are stocking their farms as rapidly as they can obtain better grades of livestock. They pay from $1,000 to $5,000 for sires to head their herds.

Gas Line Broken.

A break occurred on the main line on Broadway last night at 12:30 o'clock. This will impair the service to some extent. All industrial plants have closed down, and we beg to ask that all domestic consumers use as little gas as possible so as to supply the light plant with enough gas to keep it running. If you do not it might force them to close down at a critical moment. Please assist us all you can. It may be sometime Sunday before the repair can be made.—MacThwaite Oil & Gas company.

Local Automobile Dealers

Another bad week is reported by the managers of the various car agencies of the city, only five cars having been sold during that period. These were all Fords, and the list follows:

To M. L. Shaver, Ada, touring car.

To Thomas E. Brents, special enforcement officer, Ada, new touring car.

To C. F. Tisdale, Ada, touring car.

To D. F. Coleman, Ada, truck.

One touring car and one Sedan were delivered to a sub-agent, Ward Motor company, at Stratford, and one roadster to E. R. Harrison at the Byars sub-agency.

THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS FOR BOYS AND GIRLS CLUBS

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 22.—Premiums and prizes won by members of Oklahoma Boys' and Girls' clubs at all fairs in the state last year amounted to $24,120.07, besides a number of township and county fairs which did not report, says a statement issued here by the secretary of the two clubs. Officials of the clubs at Stillwater estimate the total will be more than $26,000 when all reports of boys' and girls' displays have been received.

With but a membership of a few hundred in 1908, the total enrollment of boys and girls in the two clubs in Oklahoma has reached 30,735, according to figures on club books, the corn clubs leading with 4,065 members. Boys' and girls' clubs over the state are divided into cotton, kaffir, peanut, potato, fruit, bees, calf and pig, wheat sheep and crop rotation for boys with clubs in canning, poultry and sewing for girls.

2,500 BALES COTTON LOST IN BIG FIRE

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 24.—Fire of unknown origin early today destroyed the Columbia Cotton Compress company's plant and twenty-five hundred bales of cotton at Magnolia, Ark., according to telegraphic advices received by the Arkansas Actuarial bureau. The loss was estimated at $275,000. Most of the cotton belonged to buyers and was fully insured. A warehouse nearby housing 400,000 bales of cotton was saved.

No Trace of Barge.
SEATTLE, WASH., Nov. 27.—No trace of the barge, W. J. Pirrie, reported ashore near James Island off the Washington coast had been found early today, according to a wireless message from the coast guard cutter Shoshmish, which went to the aid of the stricken vessel. Sixteen persons, including the wife of Captain A. B. Jensen and their baby were reported on the Pirrie, which was cut loose from the steamer Santa Rita in a heavy gale south of Cape Flattery late yesterday.

Possibility that the Pirrie had been blown out to sea instead of having gone ashore was indicated after a thorough search of the coast. The Santa Rita wired that nothing had been seen of the barge since shortly after the time she had been cast adrift. The Pirrie was fully equipped and it was believed possible she might weather the storm and beat out into the ocean.

Most Successful Teachers' Meeting Was Closed Today

ance, for each of the cities mentioned were represented by 100 percent attendance. These were the only cities of the district which turned out with its entire teacher body, thus outstripping even the city of Ada.

Displays.
Considerable interest was taken in the various displays which were to be seen at the normal building. The manual training display at the south end of the corridor in room 21 was a fine collection of implements, tools and manual training machinery, also considerable interest centered on a collection of manual training publications which was included in the display.

A collection of oil paintings by western amateurs was on display in the reception room, and a large collection of reproductions of master artists, both sepias and hand colored was on display in the agriculture room. Both of these collections attracted the attention of art lovers, and a number of the latter collection, the property of the Colonial Art company of Oklahoma City, were sold to those who made selections.

The Museum was artistically decorated with pictures, flags, mounted birds and animals and curios of many kinds and descriptions, and was usually crowded by sight-seers.

Officers Elected.
The following officers were elected for the coming year by the association: C. W. Gethman, principal of Shawnee high school, president; Miss Pearl Bradford, principal Wynnewood high school, vice-president; and E. C. Wilson, librarian at E. C. S. N., secretary-treasurer. V. H. Durham of Holdenville and J. L. German, of Wapauka, were elected to the executive board.

Resolution.
At the conclusion of the session the resolution committee submitted the following report:

We, the Resolution Committee, of the East Central State Teachers Association, do hereby submit the following report:
One. Resolved: That all the teachers of the East Central State Teachers Association do most heartily appreciate the sincere courtesy and cordial welcome extended us by the city of Ada and our own institution, the East Central State Teachers College. We wish also to thank the newspapers for the publicity accorded our convention and to congratulate the executive committee for this the most excellent program which has ever been rendered at any of our conventions, the outstanding feature of which has been the appearance of all the most excellent talent upon the program at the appointed time.

Two. Resolved: That since a large portion of the gateway memorial fund was raised in Ada, it is the sense of the East Central State Teachers Association that the disposition of this fund should be left entirely in the hands of the East Central State Teachers College.

Three. Resolved: Realizing that some relief must be had or even the present efficiency of the schools of the state will be lowered, we submit for the consideration of the conference that has been called to meet in Oklahoma City on December 11 the suggestion:

That legislation which will fix certain standards for all our schools and requirements for all teachers and will enable each district to raise sufficient money, through local and state levies to meet these standards, be passed at the earliest possible moment.

It is the sense of this Association that the best way to arrive at an absolutely impartial result in determining what the standards of our schools should be and ascertaining what the most feasible methods of raising money are, is to secure a commission of experts from out of the state, and we recommend that the legislature be urged to appropriate funds to defray the expenses of such a commission.

Respectfully submitted,
A. FLOYD,
ALBERTA HARVEY
JOHN T. HEFLEY,
H. G. FAUST

Mayor Kitchens Will Prosecute Grocerymen If Not More Careful

Mayor Gary Kitchens has issued a warning to grocerymen and draymen of this city who have been careless in the matter of properly protecting sugar, meal, salt and other edibles handled by them from contamination, and states that any future cases of negligence brought to his attention will be prosecuted.

Recently the mayor saw a drayman unload several sacks of sugar from a dray wagon and drive away leaving the sugar lying on the sidewalk. A few minutes later something happened to the sugar which would have had an appetizing effect on any one who witnessed the proceeding.

The mayor immediately went into the store and condemned the sugar, instructing the grocerymen to destroy it, and not sell it for human consumption. The same day a similar action was taken on a shipment of corn meal which was exposed on the sidewalk for some time.

Mayor Kitchens says that there is a heavy penalty which can be enforced against merchants and draymen who permit articles of food to lie on the sidewalks and that he intends to enforce the law in the future by having the guilty parties prosecuted.

UNWRITTEN LAW SAVES

KILLER OF WIFE'S LOVER

Henryetta, Nov. 27.—A jury here in the case of Louis Swindell, charged with the murder of Sam Williams in September, returned a verdict of "not guilty" after deliberating only 40 minutes. The case was one of unwritten law, Williams having enticed Swindell's wife from her home, and had her and one of her children with him in a cotton patch where the killing took place, on Deep Fork, six miles out from Henryetta.

Swindell claimed that he had repeatedly appealed to Williams to cease his attentions to Mrs. Swindell, and that when he found them together in the cotton field he did not fire until Williams himself first reached for his revolver.

WAS SHE MRS. NAT GOODWIN NO. 6?

Georgiana Gardiner.

WHAT HATRED AND ANGER DO TO YOU

Hatred or anger causes the blood to rush to the head, bringing with it those chemicals which, combined form a deadly poison.

This poison depends, quantity upon the degree of hatred or anger indulged in. A person will throw off enough of this poison with every exhalation of breath, when extremely angry, to kill a guinea pig.

The system absorbs this poison and throws it off through the pores of the skin, through the breath and by dumping it off with the waste matter of the body, through the liver.

When these sources become overtaxed this poison causes the system to weaken, bodily resistance against disease is weakened or destroyed and any disease germ which may be floating around in the blood may easily gain a foothold and break out in the form of sickness.

This is one reason why we should exercise self-control and refuse to allow anything or anyone to drive us to anger or hatred, but there is also another reason why these negative quantities should not be indulged to any extent whatever and it is the fact that through the law of retaliation we are attracting to us all the time, people who harmonize with the thoughts we think. When we hate another person we automatically attract his hatred in return. This is the chief reason why no great leader of men ever permitted hatred or anger to dominate him.

One of the biggest things that any person can do is to develop the habit of forgiving those who offend him, because this not only converts enemies into friends, but it also leads to the mastery of those destructive qualities of hatred and anger. No man can truthfully call himself a true Christian while permitting hatred and anger to sway him to and fro. Christian acts and deeds do not grow out of an angry, heated, or venomous mind. A mighty fine simple and practical way to overcome hatred and anger may be found through the practice of looking for the good there is in everyone around us and either overlooking or refusing to see the other qualities. No man ever found it either profitable or pleasant to search for the "badness" there is in his fellowman, but quite a few have attained great success, as represented by both fame and fortune, by searching out the good that may be found in every person, regardless of the mistakes he has made.

U.S. TAX MONEY PUT IN HUGE PILE

Take another look with Tate L. Hackney of the field audit control section, income tax unit, at the $5-408,075,068 that Uncle Sam collected in taxes during the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1920.

It's a levy of $51.55 on every one of the 105,000,000 men, women and children in the continental United States.

It would build more than 2,500,000 cottages, which could house more than 13,000,000 persons; equal to the population of New York state, or twenty-seven of the less-populous western states.

It would give each of these individuals a cheap automobile.

If cashed into silver dollars and they were stacked flat together they would reach from New York to San Francisco and return—6,828 miles—and enough left to form a silver cable across the Atlantic.

In silver dollars, edge to edge, it would stretch 128,032 miles, or around the earth home than four times.

It would require 23,804 trucks or a line of them ninety-six miles long, to haul this wealth.

It would require 5,634 flatcars with 141 locomotives to transport this amount of silver dollars. The train would reach forty-three miles. If in one-dollar bills, it would weigh 15,244,225 pounds, or 135 carloads of paper money.

End to end, these bills would reach 682,837 miles, or 27 strands of green backs wound around the globe.

These dollar bills would pave a street eight feet wide entirely around the earth.

It would take an expert counter 1,020 years just to count these bills.

WHERE WILSON MAY LIVE AFTER MARCH 4

The house purchased by Mrs. Tumulty, which, it is believed, will become the Wilson home.

Gossip at Washington has it that when President and Mrs. Wilson leave the White House March they will move into the above house, located at Twentieth street and Kalorama road, Washington. The house, which formerly was the home of Alexander Shepherd, first governor of the District of Columbia, was purchased recently by Mrs. Joseph Tumulty, wife of Wilson's secretary. Rumors at the time were that the house had been bought for the president, but that the president did not care to announce his future plans at the time.

SEES SHOPS GROWING BACK ON FULL TIME

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Unemployment throughout the country resulting from part time operation of mills and factories is directly due to attempts to keep up prices, Ethelbert Stewart, government price expert charged today.

"Price is the only bar to full time production," said Stewart, whose title is commissioner of the bureau of statistics of the labor department.

"Every mill in the country could operate full time if prices were down."

"The 'depression' will disappear as soon as the producers and salesmen of food, clothing and other commodities give up the idea of profiteering as in war times."

"When that happens the public will find it possible to end the big buyers' of consumers' strike."

"Although slight cuts have been made in the retail prices of a few commodities, the cutting is not yet general enough. Cuts in wholesale prices have been deeper than retail prices."

"It must be remembered that it takes from six months to a year for reduced wholesale quotations to be reflected in retail prices."

Poor Defense.

"Do you think your sister likes me Tommy?"

"Yes she stood up for you at dinner."

"Stood up for me! Was anybody saying anything against me?"

"No, nothing much. Father said he thought you were rather a donkey, but Sis got up and said you weren't and told father he ought to know better than to judge a fellow by his looks."

PROFITEERS ARE BLAMED IN PART FOR CRIME WAVE

NEW YORK.—Profiteers are partly responsible for the so-called crime wave now affecting many sections of the country, Miss Julia K. Jaffray, secretary of the committee on prisons and prison labor, declared in an interview today.

As secretary of this body, which is a national organization, Miss Jaffray declared she had found that stories of the successful operations of profiteers led to the reckless belief among easily led men that they "could get away with smaller crimes and illegalities."

Prison surveys recently made show a great decrease in petty offenses with a great increase in crimes of violence.

Post-war realization, noticeable in all classes of society, freedom from military discipline, and reaction from the spiritual exaltation of war time contribute to the present wave of crime, Miss Jaffray declared.

The period of readjustment after prohibition "with police not readily arresting men for drunkenness," also plays a part, she said.

"The reconstruction period after a great war always has resulted in a so-called crime wave," Miss Jaffray said.

fray said. "The present wave is accelerated by such contributing causes as the sensational exposure of profiteers, leading reckless spirits to think 'if the big fellow can get away with it, why can't I make a haul' high wages paid boys during the war following discontent and rebellion at school authority changing conditions in industry and the overpay of skilled workers."

"One other cause of the increased crime is rarely taken into consideration—the opportunity which a time of unrest affords for the men determined to 'get even' with society, to wreck his vengeance. Four hundred and fifty thousand men and women are discharged annually from prisons and jails and work houses throughout the country, a good sized army, disgruntled, untamed, the output of our present medieval prison system.

"IT NEVER RAINS—"

Are you prepared for the day when it "pours" as well as rains? Most of us are inclined to think that misfortune is the natural heritage of everyone but ourselves.

Some of us have learned the falacy of this—to our sorrow! Remember that it is the sun that makes things grow—you can't do your planting in the rain!

While the sun is shining, and the money is tinkling into the family coffers, just give the "outgo" side of the ledger the up-and-down, and put the amount you can easily save in a savings account.

You will soon find that you can save more and more without inconvenience.

Why not get a flying start? The longer you wait the smaller your umbrella!

BANK IS $300,000 SHORT, PRESIDENT IS UNDER ARREST

Coalgate Institution Closed After Reported Mismanagement.

COALGATE, OKLA., Nov. 27.—Sam Maxwell, president of the Citizens' State bank, pioneer Coalgate institution has been arrested and was placed under $5,000 bond in connection with the suspension of his bank, due to an alleged shortage estimated at a minimum of $300,000.

Roy H. Hotchkiss, vice president of the bank, was arrested yesterday and was also placed under $5,000 bond.

Both men are charged with violating the state banking laws prohibiting the operation of an insolvent bank.

The preliminary hearing of the defendants is set for next Tuesday morning before Judge R. P. Davidson.

Suppression Attempted.
County Attorney E. N. Holland, who filed the information against the bankers, declared today that the alleged shortage may exceed $300,000.

That the state banking department attempted to suppress the affair is the charge made by the prosecutor.

"The state banking department took over the bank on November 20. Nothing was said about the affair by the department. I made an independent investigation and upon this investigation I had warrants issued for Maxwell and Hotchkiss.

Find Forged Notes.
"We have found a large number of forged notes in the bank. These notes were forged upon citizens of Coalgate and persons living in Texas. A number of Liberty bonds are missing. I do not think the bonds exceed $5,000 in value.

"At present the bank shows a shortage in excess of $300,000. Whether it will exceed that amount depends upon the outcome of the investigation that is still in progress."

Depositors Being Paid.
Depositors of the defunct bank are now being paid out of the state bank guaranty fund. A new bank known as the Security State bank in charge of the Wilkin-Hale bank people of Oklahoma City, are in charge of the distribution.

The Citizens' State bank has been in existence since statehood. It carried deposits close to a million dollars and was regarded as one of the strongest banks in Eastern Oklahoma. Its suspension and the arrest of its directing heads have created a sensation.

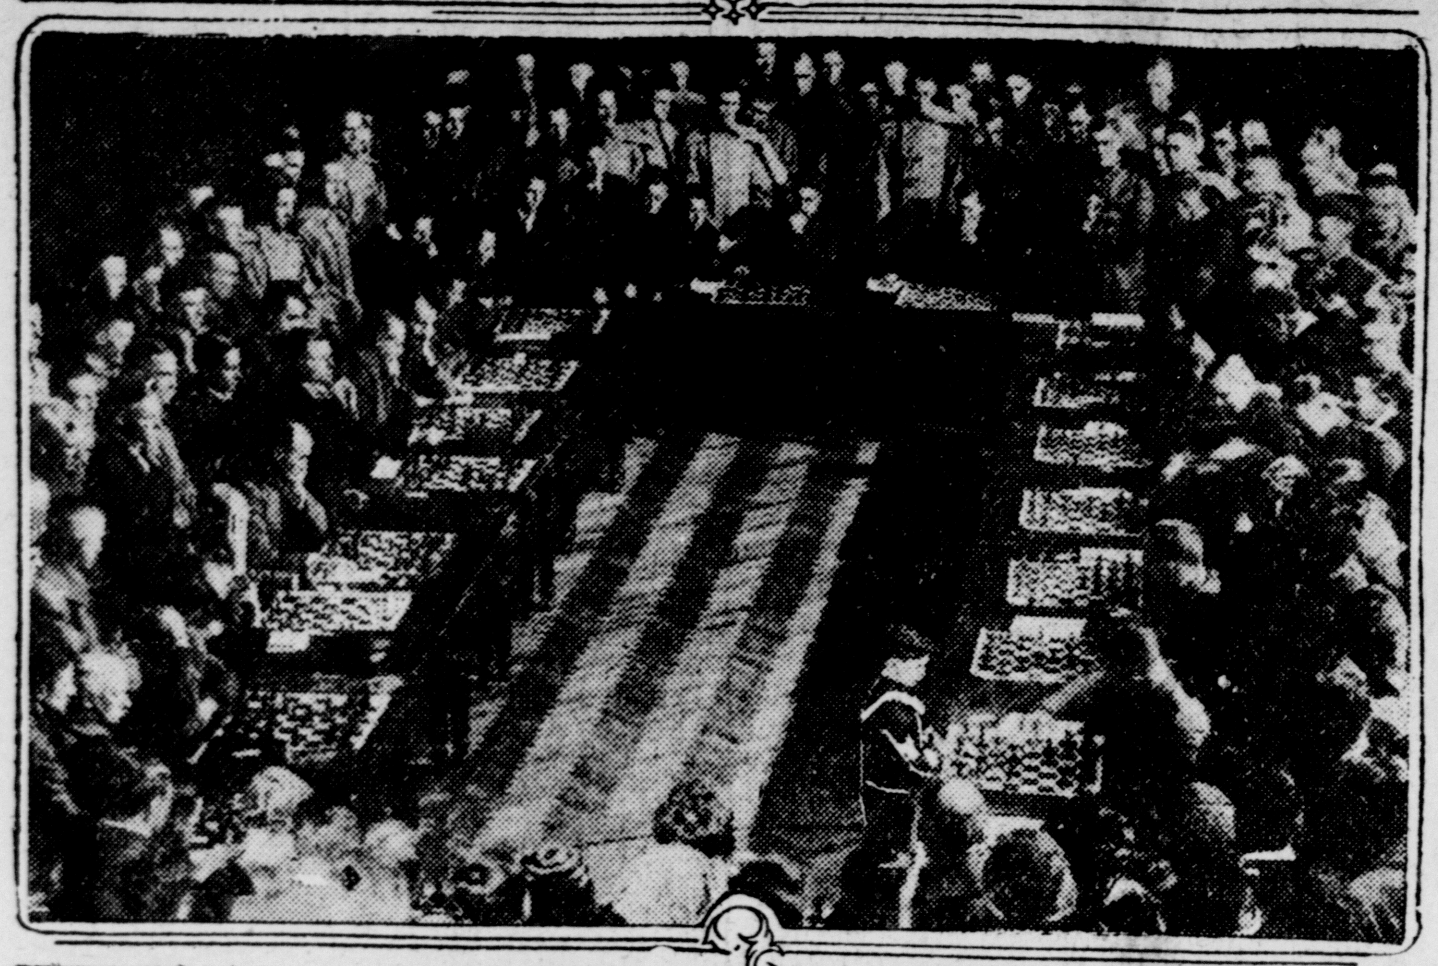

Is Former Examiner.
The prosecuting attorney says that the employees of the bank, including the cashier, were mere boys. They told the prosecutor, Holland says, that they had no knowledge of the true state of affairs of the bank and that everything they did was done under the direction of Maxwell and Hotchkiss.

Hotchkiss was formerly a state bank examiner in the employ of Fred Dennis, the present state banking commissioner.

Public Funds Gone.
Prosecutor Holland said today that among the funds that have been misappropriated are $25,500 belonging to Coal county, $23,800 belonging to the city of Coalgate, and $10,000 belonging to the public schools.

POLISH BOY OF NINE PLAYS 21 CHESS EXPERTS—AND WINS

Samuel Rzeszewski photographed while playing the twenty-one experts at West Point Military Academy.

Hemmed in by a circle of chess boards, with the best chess players among the faculty and cadets at West Point Military Academy on the outer edges of the boards, Samuel Rzeszewski, the little Polish chess wonder, demonstrated his ability for the first time in the U. S. recently by winning nineteen of the twenty games played simultaneously. Two players shared one of the games, making the total opponents against the nine-year-old lad twenty-one. The boy was forced to accept a draw in the twentieth game after over three hours of play. The picture shows that the boy is just tall enough to play at the table handsly while standing up.

ONE BODY WILL MARKET COTTON OF OKLAHOMANS

By E. T. Leech

There are many movements of many types under way to counteract and overcome the conditions which led to a 50 per cent decline in cotton prices this year, just as the farmers of the south were starting to market their crop. At least one of these plans seems on the high road to success.

It is the Oklahoma Cotton Growers' association, and it still maintains the strides it has already struck. 30 per cent of the cotton growers of this state will next year market their cotton as a unit and share in the added profits they expect from co-operative warehousing classification and selling of their product.

The Oklahoma Cotton growers have bodily lifted the plan adopted by Pacific coast citrus, raisin and prune growers, and producers of other California crops, who organized into strong co-operative associations for the marketing of their products.

Sign 7-Year Contract.
The Oklahoma plan calls for the union of at least 30,000 cotton growers into a single association, which will market the entire cotton crop of its members. These members sign an iron-clad contract to market their entire crop for seven years through the association.

This association is purely a marketing body. Its great object is to jump over the heads of the middlemen who infest the cotton business, and deal directly with the mills, thus seeking to secure for the farmers the profits which have heretofore been taken out all along the line by buyers, factories, speculators and a host of others.

The association membership is limited entirely to cotton farmers or landlords, who receive cotton as rent. No buyer, speculator, banker, or anyone else outside of actual producers can belong. This one point is proving the greatest argument which the association has.

Carl Williams, Oklahoma City editor of a widely-circulated farm paper, told me the initial progress of the association has exceeded all expectations. As a test, organizers were put in two Oklahoma counties, and explained the plans at small community meetings. Seven out of every nine farms attending signed the iron-clad seven-year contract. It is expected 30,000 farmers, raising at least 300,000 bales of cotton yearly, will become members before May, 1921.

The seven-year contract was provided so that the association can retain the best salesmen available and can guarantee to the buyers a stable supply of cotton for a long period.

Shake Well Before Using.

LEAD AND ZINC PRODUCTION IS 22 MILLIONS

MIAMI.—More than eight and a half million pounds of zinc and nearly two and a half million pounds of lead, about half the regular output of the Oklahoma-Kansas mining district, was shipped out of the field during the week ending November 6, according to statistics compiled from mine reports recently issued here.

The report added that the mines of the district are operating at about half their capacity and face the possibility of running at such a rate until present circumstances are relieved.

FARMERS SHOULD RAISE ONLY THE THINGS THAT PAY

System Profitable on Farm The Same as It Is Elsewhere.

If shoes cannot be manufactured profitably in Blanktown, the factory is likely to be sold and turned into an establishment for making brooms or candy or some other industry that thrives under Blanktown conditions. And the shoe factory will be established in Liberville, 300 miles away, where conditions are right for the production of footwear.

Many persons want to apply the same course of reasoning to farming. Analyze your costs, arrive at your profits on every crop and every herd of livestock, they say. If any crop or herd does not pay a good average annual profit, discard it forthwith. Raise nothing that does not pay.

At first glance, this seems entirely reasonable. Why should not farmers specialize, raising only the few crops that pay conclusively in their region and under their special conditions?

Sometimes they should. For example, there are regions, principally in the far west and in the far south, in which certain types of fruit farming are dominant. There are other regions, near large cities, where truck gardening prevails.

In most parts of the United States, however, we have general farming, comprising farms of large acreage and a great variety of enterprises. Because of soil and climate and because of marketing conditions, highly specialized agriculture is not practicable. Should these do not show a clear profit? Not at all. The growing of a certain crop, while not showing a clear profit, may be justified because it keeps labor busy that would otherwise be paid for idleness or because it is of value to the soil or because it may be utilized to special advantage or for some equally valid reason.

A crop that does not return a profit should be carefully scrutinized by the farmer, and should not be retained unless it is found to serve a genuine useful purpose. On the other hand, it should not be rejected forthwith.

Under present circumstances, the whole farm must be taken into consideration. It is a factory making many products. Some of them may not pay individually, but they help make the whole business pay. And that is the essential.—The Kansas Industrialist.

Edison Was Right Again

The prices of Edison Phonographs have increased less than 15% since 1914, and a substantial part of this increase is the 5% tax, which the Edison Laboratories pay to the government.

The Edison Phonograph of today is a better phonograph and a better value than the Edison Phonograph of 1914. On the other hand, the dollar of today is worth, in purchasing power, only a little more than half as much as the dollar of 1914. Therefore, if you buy an Edison Phonograph at this time, you are virtually buying a before-the-war value, with an after-the-war dollar.

Why was it that Edison did not increase his prices and how did he avoid the necessity of doing so? Any commercial agency and practically any investment banker can ascertain for you that the Edison Phonograph laboratories were doing business, in 1914, on a narrower margin of profit than was true of any of the other established phonograph, or talking machine manufacturers. How, then did Edison manage to avoid an increase in his selling prices?

The story is dramatically interesting. The following is only the essence of it:

When the United States of America entered the Great War, Mr. Edison dropped all his work at the Edison laboratories and enlisted in the army of American men of science, who pitted themselves so successfully against the world-famed German scientists, Cardinal Mercier, on his recent visit to America, credited Mr. Edison with a large share in winning the war for the Allies. The New York American of September 5th describes at length some of the inventions, which Mr. Edison developed and placed at the disposal of the government. In this article, the New York American states that Mr. Edison appears to have been the moving spirit of the Naval Consulting Board of the United States.

When Mr. Edison gave up his own business for the business of the nation, a very critical situation existed in his Manufacturing laboratories, due to their inability to obtain various materials, and the necessity of finding satisfactory substitutes for such materials. If there was ever a time in Mr. Edison's career, when his personal attention to his business was required, it was when he went to war. Thomas A. Edison had reason to believe that he was risking enormous losses, by deserting his business, at the particular time in question, but he did not hesitate, and his example had a remarkable influence on the men and women, who remained behind. From the humblest workman to the highest paid executive in the Edison organization, everyone seemed determined "to make good while the Old Man was away." Vacations were passed up and doctors' orders were ignored by zealous employees, and, as a result, the Edison Manufacturing Laboratories were one of the few manufacturing concerns in the United States, where there was no loss of efficiency during the war, and where there was, in fact, an increase in efficiency.

During the war, Mr. Edison spent most of his time on the sea coast or at sea. On those rare occasions, when he visited the Edison Laboratories, it was difficult to gain his attention, for more than a few minutes, with reference to business matters. He did, however, state that the Edison Phonograph was his pet invention and he hoped that his business associates would be able, in some way or other, to avoid any increase in price, and that, if there must be an increase, he wanted such increase to be just as small as it could possibly be made. Mr. Edison said: "I am willing to stand the gaff. Music is an important thing. Let us make it as easy as possible for people to have music in their homes in these nerve-racking days."

What was the result? The wonderful realism of the New Edison, "The Phonograph with a Soul," made it desired above all other phonographs, and its sale was stimulated by the fact that the increase in price was negligible. The demand soon far outstripped the supply. Overhead and sales expense were reduced to the minimum and, thanks to Mr. Edison's willingness to absorb a large share of the increased cost of manufacture, it was possible for the Edison Laboratories, by accepting a merely nominal profit, to avoid any substantial increase in the selling price of the Edison Phonograph.

It will be many years before the general level of commodity prices is as low as the present price of the Edison Phonograph. Leading bankers have expressed themselves as willing to lend money on Edison Phonographs, because they know the selling prices of Edison Phonographs are not going to be reduced.

Let us reiterate that when you buy an Edison Phonograph today you buy a before-the-war value with an after-the-war dollar. If you have any fear that there may be a reduction in the prices of Edison Phonographs, we are prepared to give you full assurance on that point.
